We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of any other site that collects personally identifiable information.

Security

We take precautions to protect your personal data. When you submit sensitive personal data via the website, your personal data is protected both online and offline. Wherever we collect sensitive personal data (such as your contact information), that personal data is encrypted and transmitted to us in a secure way. You can verify this by looking for a lock icon in the address bar and looking for “https” at the beginning of the address of the Web page. While we use encryption to protect sensitive personal data transmitted online, we also protect your personal data offline. Only employees who need the personal data to perform a specific job (for example, billing or customer service) are granted access to personal data. The computers/servers in which we store personal data are kept in a secure environment.

Retention of Personal Data

We retain personal data we collect as long as it is necessary and relevant to fulfill the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy. Following that period, we will make sure it is deleted or anonymised (in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you). We may retain personal data for a longer period to comply with applicable law where required, prevent fraud, resolve disputes (or if we believe there is a prospect of litigation/dispute in respect to our relationship with you), troubleshoot problems, assist with any investigation, enforce our Terms of Use, and other actions permitted by law. To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

Your Access to and Control Over Your Personal Data

You may opt-out of any future contacts from us at any time. You can do the following at any time by contacting us via the contact form given on our website. You can also:

- See what personal data we have about you if any – this enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Request change/correction to any personal data we have about you – this enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you corrected, though we may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us.
- Request us to delete any personal data we have about you – this enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your personal data unlawfully or where we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons which will be notified to you, if applicable, at the time of your request.
- Object to processing of your personal data – where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground as you feel it impacts on your fundamental rights and freedoms. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes. In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your personal data which override your rights and freedoms.

- Request restriction of processing your personal data – this enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal data in the following scenarios:
 - if you want us to establish the personal data's accuracy;
 - where our use of the data is unlawful but you do not want us to erase it;
 - where you need us to hold the data even if we no longer require it as you need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; and
 - you have objected to our use of your data but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.
- Request transfer of your personal data to you or to a third party – we will provide to you, or a third party you have chosen, your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. Note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.
- Right to withdraw consent at any time – in the rare circumstances where we ask for your consent to process your personal data, any consent is provided freely and if you decide to withdraw your consent, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain services to you. We will advise you if this is the case at the time you withdraw your consent.

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we could refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances. We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response. We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it could take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated. If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above, please contact us at support@btcen.io

Contact

You can contact our data privacy officer as follows: support@btcen.io. We may process your data on behalf of a contract partner of yours (e.g. vendor, seller, service provider). In this case, the privacy policy of your partner applies. Please contact your contract partner for more information.
